Research Experience

- 2011- Nonresident Student Fellow, Connected Learning Research Network
2012 University of California Humanities Research Institute
Working under Mimi Ito to help develop shared conceptual frameworks and pilot research protocols for the Connected Learning Research Network, a MacArthur Foundation research network studying the role of digital media in learning organized between settings of school, after-school, homes, and peer cultures. <http://dmlcentral.net/projects/3677>
- 2008- Graduate Researcher, Digital Media and Learning Hub
2010 University of California Humanities Research Institute
Worked under Mimi Ito and Heather Horst to help establish the Digital Media and Learning Hub, a research collaboratory that promotes collaboration amongst researchers studying the relationships between media, technology, and learning. Conducted literature reviews, original fieldwork, and co-authored reports.

- 2005-2008 Graduate Researcher, The Digital Youth Project
Institute for the Study of Social Change, University of California, Berkeley
 Independently ran two ethnographic case studies for Peter Lyman and Mimi Ito's exploratory study of how young people's informal uses of digital media affect communication, learning, and play. Co-authored book based on the project. The project, funded by a $3.3 million grant from MacArthur Foundation, was the most extensive qualitative U.S. study yet conducted on teens and their use of digital media. <http://digitalyouth.ischool.berkeley.edu/>
- 2006 Graduate Researcher, Information & Service Design Program
University of California, Berkeley
 Worked under Robert Glushko to develop a curriculum for the new Information & Service Design program at U.C. Berkeley. Researched and tested human-centered methodologies for the design of information-rich services and experiences.
- 2005 Research Intern
Yahoo! Research Labs, Berkeley, CA
 Worked under Marc Davis at a research partnership between Yahoo! and U.C. Berkeley. Assessed user needs, developed information architecture diagrams, prototyped user interface wireframes, and designed information visualizations for desktop and mobile applications that leveraged temporal, spatial, and social metadata for multimedia capture, use, and reuse.
