Principles of Clarity
Spring Quarter, 2017

Professor: Dr. Karen Dobkins, Ph.D.
5117 McGill Hall e-mail: kdobkins@ucsd.edu

Class Meetings: Thursdays, 9:30 – 10:30 AM, CSB 003

Purpose: The principles taught in this class are based on Mindfulness, Positive Psychology and Cognitive Therapy (as well as Buddhism and Neuroscience). The focus is on how to live a life where our actions are aligned with our core values, get straight to the heart of a matter, identify the issues, discriminate between real threats vs. the “stories” we tell ourselves, move away from “shoulds”, take responsibility for our choices, not go into “victim mentality”, communicate needs effectively, bring love, mindfulness and compassion to all situations, and live wholeheartedly, without apology. The goal is to give you the tools you need to feel empowered and to live a life you love, with purpose and clarity.

Format: Each week, there is a short lecture on a given topic. Then, in a “workshop” format, the instructor presents questions to the group about how they see a given situation, asking people to share the “stories” they have created - that limit them, and then to think of clear and fresh ways to “debunk/defuse” the limiting story. Before each session, the instructor sends written assignments (for example, writing out a statement of core values), to be brought to the class. Students are asked to refer to the written assignments during the class.

Grading: Grading is Pass/Not Pass, and is based on attendance, class discussion and participation. I keep track of attendance, by asking you to email if you are missing a class. I allow one absence to still pass the class, but please try to make them all!
