COURSE ORGANIZATION

Course evaluation will be based on a midterm, participation in class discussions, one written essay, and a final exam. Assignment grades will be distributed: midterm 20%; written essay 35%; final 35%; and participation in class activities 10%.

COURSE OBLIGATIONS

All students must attend lectures, read the assigned materials, and finish all assignments in order to complete this course. There will be general discussion in class in which you are encouraged to participate. We will relate current American Indian news items and events to the past; items will be available daily from links on the course web site. You have a responsibility to create an environment conducive to learning during lectures.

ASSIGNED READING

Note: Do not purchase any books before reading this section very carefully!

A collection of readings – articles, documents, and maps - is available from the course website at TED/WebCT.

The following required books have been ordered for this course by UCSD bookstore:

Colin G. Calloway, First Peoples: a documentary survey of American Indian History, 4th edition.

In addition, you will choose one of the following for your written assignment. I will discuss the books in class to aid you in your choice:

Ella Cara Deloria, Waterlily

Louis Owens. Bone Game

Leslie Marmon Silko, Garden in the Dunes

James Welch, Fool's Crow

These books above have been placed on 2 hour library reserve at Geisel.
