REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

A Change in Culture and Philosophy: One BU

We should adopt a new, inclusive, integrated, and interconnected view of Boston University and its academic mission: a culture and philosophy of One BU. The aim is to cultivate

University Council Approves Open Access Plan

BU to create free archive of faculty research

02.17.2009

By Art Jahnke and Jessica Ullian

Welcome to BU Digital Common

The Boston University Institutional Repository contains documents and publications authored or co-authored by BU faculty, students, and staff.

Digital Common is an open access repository, which means that the full text of the work deposited here is freely accessible to the world via the web. Access is restricted only in unavoidable instances, for example where publisher copyright restrictions prevail. However over 90% of scholarly publishers worldwide now allow some version of the documents they publish to be made available in a repository such as this.

Research Data Management

Data Management Outline

It is important to have a plan for the management of research data throughout the data life cycle. Funding agencies such as the NSF and NIH have begun to require data management plans as part of the grant application process.

Funding Agencies

To create a data management plan for a research project, you will need to answer a series of questions about the data that will be created by the project, and then document the answers in a plan.

Questions for a data management plan

1. What data will be created during the research project?
