RESEARCH IN PROGRESS:

1. First generation "homesign" among deaf children in a Tzotzil speaking family in Chiapas, Mexico.
2. Gesture in language, and the use of the body in speech and interaction. My most recent work considers the use of the body in musical performance and pedagogy.
3. Language documentation of Amuzgo (Otomanguean), dialect of San Pedro Amuzgos, Putla, Oaxaca, Mexico, and Oceanside, California.
4. Cross-cultural analysis of naturally occurring talk in Tzotzil, English, Spanish, Italian, Friulano, and Guugu-Yimithirr, including the study of prosody and gesture.
5. The social, political, and legal lives of indigenous Mexican migrant laborers in the United States, especially Amuzgos from Oaxaca and Tzotziles from Chiapas, living in the USA.
6. Comparative linguistic studies of Mayan languages of Chiapas, especially dialects of Tzotzil, Tseltal of Oxchuk and Petalcingo, and Ch'ol syntax and acquisition (dialects of Tumbalá, Tila, and de Salto de Agua, Chiapas).
7. Land tenure and genealogy in relation to current land claims in Barrow Point and Starcke River areas, Cape York Peninsula, Queensland, Australia.
